

The African Episcopal Church of St. Thomas was built in 1794. Church records show that Oronoco Dexter hosted a meeting of the Elders and Deacons at his house on 5th Street in 1792. He also served on the committee that planned the building of the church.

A Sunday Morning View of the African Episcopal Church of St. Thomas in Philadelphia

By William L Brenton (1829)

Courtesy of the Episcopal Church of the United States